

YOUNGER IN SECONDS

August 23, 2017
Media Impressions: 6,200,000

WHAT'S HER SECRET?

Shohreh Aghdashloo

Ceramides Restore Skin's Shine

In 2016, the Emmy winner dealt with the same aging woe we all do: dull, dry skin. The reason? "With age, skin loses the lipids that form its protective barrier, a key to retaining moisture," says celebrity dermatologist Dr. Anna Avaliani, M.D. Secret to luminous skin like Shohreh has now? Use a cream containing ceramides (like La Roche-Posay Toleriane Double Repair Moisturizer UV Broad Spectrum SPF 30, $17, target.com). "They're naturally occurring lipids in the skin's outer layer that help restore the barrier so skin stays supple and dewy." One study even found that daily use of a ceramide-infused cream can increase skin's hydration by 35 percent! Simply massage a pea-sized amount onto the face to see results in three weeks.

10/11/17

At age 63

66 August 21, 2017 CLOSER

